DIEBOLD APPOINTS CJ DAILEY AS VICE PRESIDENT OF ELECTRONIC SECURITY INSTALLATION OPERATIONS

NORTH CANTON, Ohio – Diebold, Incorporated (NYSE: DBD) today announced that CJ Dailey has been appointed vice president of installation operations for its Electronic Security team. Dailey will focus on the company’s efforts to drive growth in national accounts.

Dailey will be responsible for leading the company’s electronic security installation efforts and standardizing installation processes to ensure operational excellence and customer satisfaction across all sales channels.

“Our customers expect best-in-class delivery of their electronic security solutions and their experience starts with the installation of those solutions,” said Tony Byerly, Diebold executive vice president, electronic security. “CJ’s diverse experience and success in the electronic security industry will enable us to continue to develop our installation program to exceed our customer’s expectations.”

Prior to joining Diebold, Dailey held various management positions at Stanley Convergent Security Solutions, a division of Stanley Black & Decker, and ADT/Tyco International. He will be based in Orlando, Fla.
