DIEBOLD ELECTRONIC SECURITY RECEIVES TOP HONOR AT 20TH ANNUAL SAMMY AWARDS

Security Sales & Integration names Diebold as 2015 Installer of the Year

NORTH CANTON, Ohio -- Diebold, Incorporated's (NYSE: DBD) Electronic Security division was named "Installer of the Year" at Security Sales & Integration's 20th annual SAMMY Awards on April 14, in Las Vegas. Based on Diebold's exceptional customer service, employee training and certifications, business practices, marketing strategies, community outreach and security industry contributions, Security Sales & Integration honored Diebold as the winner of the coveted 2015 Installer of the Year award.

"We are honored to be named 2015 Installer of the Year. To be recognized by the security industry as the best at what we do, validates our intense focus to consistently perform at the highest levels to provide the best customer experience possible," said Tony Byerly, Diebold executive vice president, global security. "Diebold Security is committed to providing industry leading security solutions and services in tandem with outstanding customer service and support. This award belongs to all of our electronic security associates who work tirelessly on behalf of our customers to deliver the Diebold difference every day."

Established 20 years ago, the SAMMY Awards is the only program that honors the electronic security industry's top sales, marketing and business installation practices. The Installer of the Year award joins the list of top honors Diebold has received in recent years, including Security Sales and Integration's Integrated Installation of the Year, SDM's Systems Integrator of the Year and repeat wins of the Central Station Alarm Association's Central Station of the Year.
